

ALICE'S LULLABY - EPISODE ONE - SAMPLE OF GRANDCHILDREN BARKS

In ALICE'S LULLABY (AKA Albino Lullaby), the enemy NPCs are known as Grandchildren - slug like collumns of flesh with crooked teeth chasing after the player. The Grandchildren have some barks that only play when the player is being chased in-game (aggro'd) and others that are played over a kill screen when they're caught. For the most part they're interchangeable due to the Grandchildren's unintelligible mania.

GRANDCHILD (AGGRO)
Scrape along the scabbed path.
Color it pink.

GRANDCHILD (AGGRO)
Where does birdie hide its whistle?
Twee! Twee! Twee!

GRANDCHILD (AGGRO)
Streak. Streak. Stain. Stain. ST-AIN.

GRANDCHILD (AGGRO)
(ad lib ad nauseum)
Break the top, break the middle,
break the tips, break the center,
break the middle..

GRANDCHILD (AGGRO)
Are you happy with us?

GRANDCHILD (AGGRO - DISTANT)
You have to shake it harder or the lid won't come off.

GRANDCHILD (OS - AGGRO)
(crying)
I don't remember... How do I put it back the way it was?

GRANDCHILD (AGGRO)
Press it all out. No in. No in.

GRANDCHILD (AGGRO - DISTANT) Scrub away until you find the warmth.

GRANDCHILD (KILL SCREEN)
First the wet and then the dark and then the wet and then the dark and
then the wet and then the dark and
the wet and the dark and the wet and the dark....

GRANDCHILD (AGGRO - DISTANT)
 Move again and I'll take the red away.

GROUP ENCOUNTERS

The below barks are to be said in groups or something to be roughly ad libbed by a voice actor, for when grandchildren are encountered in large numbers.

GRANDCHILDREN (GROUP AGGRO)
 Oh. Oh no. No. You aren't allowed.
 Stay there. Stay still. I'll take care of it. I'll just take care of it quick. Quick like a loose tooth.
 You just stay put and keep it easy.
 Easy. Don't run.

GRANDCHILDREN (GROUP AGGRO)
 Huh? Hello? Stranger? ... Stranger?
 ... Stranger.
 (as if they've found you now)
 Hello. You are lost, aren't you?
 We'll take you home. Don't you want to go home, stranger?

GRANDCHILDREN
 (Group AGGRO - trapped area)
 You know you can't balance your melon on a saw blade without splitting yourself wide open. You can't take the cheese from the trap without breaking your neck. You can't turn the lights off without bumping over the lamp. You can't, you know. You can't. You can't enter a house without meeting your neighbor. You can't eat bread without spoiling their meal. You can't expect to choke without being heard. You can't expect the neighbor without a saw blade. You cant. You can't un-enter the house or un-eat the bread or un-choke or un-split across the saw or un-break
 the neck or turn the light back on.
 Not now."
